

Zetafax SMS Gateway

An attractive option for companies needing to send and receive text messages from a PC interface at the desktop.

The Zetafax SMS Gateway is an ideal additional feature to assist you in contacting customers, prospects, subscribers and clients – both quickly and cheaply.

Direct communication to your customers

Send text messages directly from the desktop to customers' mobile handsets. You can send reminder text messages to your customers ahead of the expiry of an agreement, or alert them to an approaching deadline for a contract or policy renewal.

The Zetafax SMS Gateway lets you send targeted communications to customers either immediately, or at future set times planned by you.

Ideal for updating your employees

Send text messages to colleagues who are out on the road, allowing you to communicate important information instantly.

For example, if a conference or meeting has to be cancelled, the Zetafax SMS Gateway lets you broadcast instructions on alternative timings and venues to everyone affected.

Easy and quick to use

Intuitive and simple to use, it takes just seconds to send a text message to an individual or to multiple recipients.

Mobile phone numbers can be added to the address book as required, and then selected singly or in groups when messages are to be sent. Incoming replies are collected in a single inbox for distribution or collation. Inbound routing to multiple inboxes can also be set up if required.

Benefits

Allows Zetafax users to send text messages direct to mobile handsets from the desktop

Provides an instant, easy and cost-efficient way of using the latest technology to improve communications for your organization
